Legal Requirements

Wedding Requirements for a legal Marriage in Dominican Republic

Important Info:

All weddings booked at Royalton CHIC Punta Cana will initially be booked as a Symbolic wedding ceremony due to the limited number of judges in Punta Cana who service all hotels. This is standard practice among the area hotels as the notary will only confirm your wedding date closer to your actual wedding date. We certainly don't want you to have to hold off on planning and sending out those invites!! Please do not worry at all! If the judge is not available on your wedding date or at the particular time we've schedule for your ceremony, we will have the legal paperwork done at a separate time during your stay! We promise it will not have any effect on the ceremony.

Brides and Grooms: Please remember, you will both need to arrive 3 days before the wedding! (The additional cost of $850 USD will be required for the minister/judge & marriage license.)

The following is documentation required by the Dominican Law in order to get married in the Dominican Republic:

- Original and one copy of Single Status Affidavit*, notarized at your place of residency (Bride and Groom, one for each), showing names as they appear on your passports.
- Birth Certificate of bride and groom (two copies). If parents' names are not shown on the certificates, please indicate them separately for us. (If passports are not ready on time to be sent with your documents, you can send copies of your drivers licenses, if so, remember to bring the originals with the rest of the documentation when traveling to the Dominican Republic.)
- Passport photocopies of the witnesses. Witnesses cannot be blood-related family members (if you do not have witnesses, the hotel will provide them)
- Name change document, if name has been changed (including divorcees who had reverted back to maiden name).

Note: Except for Canadian citizens, apostilles are required on all official documents. An apostille is also required on the Notary's signature for each single status form. All required documents must be translated and legalized before arriving to the Dominican Republic. Please ensure that you bring ALL original documents and legalized translations with you personally to the resort.

The documents should be legalized by the Dominican Consulate no later than 3 months prior to the wedding date and it is the couple's responsibility to have all the documentation ready before the wedding date, as required. The Judge is an outside service provided by the Dominican government, the hotel cannot be held responsible for any delay or alteration. The Judge will duly register your Wedding Certificate at the Central Civil Board; Royalton Punta Cana will then send the wedding certificate to the couple, by courier once we receive the certificate (this procedure may take 3 - 12 months after the wedding).
